Let's Start!

Let's do some training with Vanessa at the restaurant!

Learning Outcome

Identify and describe plans for the organization of events.

Ask your partner:

- Do you know what a training session is?
- Did you ever go to one?

Can Do Statements

- I can talk about things, actions and events in the future.
- I can talk about jobs and work.
- I can use words to describe general quantities.

Let's Explore!

Vanessa is attending a session. What's it about? Why is she there?

Instructions: Read the text aloud.

- Vanessa: Hi. I'm looking for Colette Brown. I have a training session with her.
Colette: You must be Vanessa. Nice to meet you. I'm Colette.
Vanessa: Pleasure to meet you.
Colette: How are you?
Vanessa: I'm well. I'm looking forward to learning about this position.
Colette: Great. Let's get started. There is lots of information you'll need to review.
Vanessa: Ok.
Colette: First on the agenda is what is required of you. You'll oversee day-to-day production and operations in the kitchen. This includes planning and directing all food preparation. You'll support the training of kitchen helpers.
Vanessa: Alright.
Colette: We won't require you to monitor inventory.
Vanessa: Mmm. What about menus?
Colette: There won't be plenty of opportunities to work with our menu planners but you'll have some.
Vanessa: Great. I enjoy that work.
Colette: Fantastic. You'll participate in making new food products.

Let's Practice!

Learning Points

Future Tense

When you use the Future tense in the negative form, you can use the auxiliary will.

Structure: will not + base form of the verb

Short Form: won't + base form of the verb

You can use this form to:

- describe a simple action in the future

They won't help us prepare the meals.

- make a prediction

The manager won't give you a raise with that behavior.

Quantifiers

You use quantifiers to talk about the quantity or amount of something. They can be used with countable and uncountable nouns.

Quantifiers

all enough
no/none not any some any a lot of lots of plenty of

Examples:

- We have to peel all the tomatoes.
- We prepare all the the menus.
- There are plenty of chances to work with them.
- You have lots of information to review.
